

LAW ENFORCEMENT OFFICER OF THE YEAR! --- Dep. Scott Ingram (l.) accepts the American Police Hall of Fame Law Enforcement Officer of the Year plaque from Executive Director Donna Shepherd. Dep. Ingram (Daviness County, Kentucky) was heralded for putting his own safety at high risk disarming himself at the instruction of an armed perpetrator and executing the release of a five year-old girl that was being used by the perp as a human shield. Dep. Ingram's family was also honored at a special luncheon to celebrate his actions as well as to celebrate the 45th Anniversary of the opening of the American Police Hall of Fame!
